

Valeria HEUBERGER M.A., Ph.D.

CV

Born in Vienna in 1960

Studies at the University of Vienna: European ethnology, history, art history

1986: M.A.

1995: Ph.D.

Current position

Since January 1, 2012: Researcher at the Institute for Social Anthropology (ISA).

Current research project

Viennese Hajjis. The pilgrimage to Mecca as an example for diversity and mobility (1.10.2015-30.9.2016, financed by MA7).

Career History

Since January 1, 2012: Researcher at the Institute for Anthropology (ISA).

May 1, 2008 – December 31, 2011: Researcher at the Commission for Balkan Studies, Austrian Academy of Sciences (AAS). December 31, 2011: Closure of the Commission.

January 1, 2007 - April 30, 2008: Researcher at the Research Center Josefsplatz.

April 1, 1989 - December 31, 2006: Researcher at the Austrian Institute of East and Southeast European Studies. December 31, 2006: Closure of the Institute.

July 1, 1987 - March 31, 1989: Researcher at the Institute for Canon Law, Law Faculty, University of Vienna.

October 1, 1986 – June 30, 1987: Internship („Akademikertraining“), Institute for Canon Law, Law Faculty, University of Vienna.

June 1, 1986 – September 30, 1986: Austrian Academy of Sciences (AAS), participation in a research project about the German minority in Hungary after 1945.

Research Interests

Ethnic and religious communities in Central, Eastern and Southeast Europe from the Early Modern Period until today.

Muslims in Europe in past and present.

Islam in the U.S.A. in past and present.